FLORIDA LABOR MARKET TRENDS

FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT SECURITY • BUREAU OF LABOR MARKET INFORMATION

Highlights:

- Nonagricultural employment in Florida increased by 4.1 percent or 217,400 new jobs over the year to reach a total of 5,521,900 in August. The overall trend for employment growth, however, has been slowing down on an annual basis. August witnessed an over-the-month decline of -0.1 percent.
- Services; government; and transportation, communications, and public utilities (TCPU) were the fastest growing industries over the year with rates of 6.9, 9.0, and 4.5 percent, respectively. Services recorded strong gains due to robust employment growth in hotels and other lodging places. Government's strong growth was due in part to employment of temporary census workers.
- Both manufacturing (-5,700) and construction (-15,900) lost jobs over the year. These industries remain Florida's most volatile sectors reacting to interest rates and other economic conditions.
- Florida's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate increased by 1.4 percentage points over the year to 6.7 percent in August (426,000 jobless). This was 1.1 percentage points higher than the national rate of 5.6 percent. The Fort Pierce MSA (13.9 percent) recorded the highest rate while the Gainesville MSA recorded the lowest (3.8 percent) in August (not seasonally adjusted).

Highlights:

- Florida's nonagricultural employment growth in September was 3.5 percent over the year. This 183,900 increase in new jobs was the smallest since November 1989. However, Florida's job growth rate continued to outperform those of the other eleven most populous states.
- Services, the largest industrial sector in the state, was the fastest growing over the year at 6.9 percent or 105,600 new jobs. Hotels and other lodging places posted the largest growth rate of services' subsectors with an increase of 8.5 percent over the year. Health services rose the highest in terms of number of new jobs (29,100) over the same period.
- Government; transportation, communications, and public utilities; and trade all experienced job increases over the year with growth rates of 6.2 percent (50,700 jobs), 3.9 percent (10,300 jobs), and 2.8 percent (41,000 jobs), respectively.
- Only government recorded positive over-the-month growth with an increase of 0.5 percent (4,300 jobs). All other industries recorded job losses.
- Construction, manufacturing, and mining continued to slide with over-the-year decreases of 4.8 percent (16,200 jobs), 1.7 percent (9,300 jobs), and 1.1 percent (100 jobs), respectively. This decline was in concert with national economic trends and not necessarily due to conditions specific to Florida.
- Florida's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate of 6.0 percent (389,000 jobless) was higher than the nation's 5.7 percent, and was the 5th highest among the eleven most populous states.

Highlights:

- Nonagricultural employment in Florida increased by 2.9 percent or 156,400 new jobs over the year in October. The overall trend for employment growth, however, has been slowing down on an annual basis. October posted an over-the-month decline of 0.2 percent or 8,800 jobs.
- Services; government; and transportation, communications, and public utilities (TCPU) recorded the fastest over-the-year growth in October with rates of 6.4, 6.2 and 3.4 percent, respectively. Hotels and other lodging places (7.8 percent or 11,200 jobs), and health services (7.0 percent or 27,400 jobs) continued to outpace other services' subsectors.
- Trade; and finance, insurance, and real estate achieved moderate over the year growth rates of 2.3 percent (33,300 jobs) and 0.9 percent (3,300 jobs) in October, respectively.
- Both construction (-7.1 percent or -24,100 jobs) and manufacturing (-2.3 percent or -12,500 jobs) experienced setbacks over the year in October. These industries have been in an overall yearly decline since February 1990.
- Mining, the smallest industrial sector in terms of employment, endured a decline of 3.2 percent (300 jobs) over the year in October.
- Florida's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate of 6.2 percent (400,000 jobless) in October was higher than the nation's at 5.7 percent. The Fort Pierce MSA (10.8 percent) recorded the highest rate while the Bradenton MSA (3.9 percent) recorded the lowest in October (not seasonally adjusted).

Highlights:

- Nonagricultural employment in Florida increased by 2.4 percent or 128,000 new jobs over the year in November. The slowing of the rate of growth indicates that Florida's economy is following the path of the recessionary national economy.
- Services; government; trade; and transportation, communications, and public utilities all achieved positive over-the-year growth with rates of 6.2 (95,800 jobs), 5.8 (47,300 jobs), 1.9 (28,400 jobs), and 2.0 percent (5,600 jobs), respectively.
- Health services (up 27,900 jobs) and business services (up 21,600 jobs) provided the largest number of new jobs of the services' subsectors.
- Construction and manufacturing employment suffered another setback with negative growth rates over the year of -9.9 (-33,700 jobs), and -2.7 percent (-14,600 jobs) in November, respectively. Durable goods employment (-4.2 percent or -13,600 jobs) accounted for most of the decline in manufacturing.
- Florida's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate of 6.3 percent (354,000 jobless) in November was higher than the nation's at 5.9 percent. The Panama City MSA (11.0 percent) posted the highest rate while the Gainesville MSA (3.6 percent) recorded the lowest in November (not seasonally adjusted).

(1) - These series do not have a consistent seasonal pattern and consequently do not pass criteria for seasonal adjustment. Total nonagricultural employment is the sum of all major industries and is not adjusted. Durable goods and nondurable goods in manufacturing and wholesale and retail in trade may not add to totals due to lack of adjustment to durable goods and wholesale trade.

Highlights:

- Nonagricultural employment in Florida inched upward by 1.8 percent (98,400 jobs) over the year to reach 5,471,000 in December, the smallest over-the-year increase since March 1983. This was a significant indication that the Florida economy is shadowing the national economy's downturn.
- Construction employment suffered an over-the-year decline of 12.5 percent (42,700 jobs). This was the largest setback in an overall descent which began in October 1988, and the ninth month posting a negative growth rate in 1990.
- Manufacturing employment growth continued its downward trend in December with a negative over-the-year growth rate of 3.5 percent (19,000 jobs). This was the largest over-the-year decline since March 1983, and the eighth month in 1990 to record a negative growth rate.
- Transportation, communications, and public utilities (up by 2.0 percent or 5,500 jobs); and trade (up by 2.0 percent or 29,000 jobs) both grew more rapidly than the statewide over-the-year average of 1.8 percent.
- Services (5.6 percent or 86,900 jobs) and government (5.0 percent or 40,700 jobs) realized the largest over-the-year increases. Services' over-the-year growth for December, however, was the smallest since June 1985. Of the services' subsectors, health services (up 6.3 percent or 24,900 jobs); and business services (up by 7.7 percent or 20,800 jobs) were the strongest over-the-year performers.
- Florida's seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for December 1990 was 5.5 percent (356,000 jobless) less than the nation's 6.1 percent.

FLORIDA LABOR MARKET TRENDS

Highlights:

- Nonagricultural employment in Florida realized only a marginal increase of 1.3 percent or 68,800 jobs over the year to reach 5,410,300 in January. This was a slight improvement over December's over-the-year increase of 1.0 percent but was still disappointingly low. This downward trend is concurrent with the nationwide recession.
- Construction employment suffered a year-to-date decline of 12.4 percent or 41,900 in January. This was the largest drop after a series of monthly declines in an industry that has not experienced positive growth since September 1988; twenty-eight consecutive months of negative growth. This industry's woes are a result of overbuilding during the past decade ensuing in large surpluses of unsold residential and commercial properties.
- Manufacturing employment continued to lose jobs in January with a negative over-the-year growth rate of 3.9 percent or 20,900 jobs. This was a slight improvement over December's decline of 4.6 percent but still significantly worse than 1990's average decline of 2.9 percent.
- Mining and finance, insurance, and real estate both posted negative year-to-date growth for January with rates of 8.8 percent or 800 jobs and 0.8 percent or 3,000 jobs, respectively.
- Of the industries posting positive over-the-year growth in January, services (5.4 percent or 84,300 jobs) and government (4.5 percent or 36,900 jobs) realized the largest increases. Services' over-the-year growth for January, even though higher than December's increment of 5.0 percent, remained well below 1990's average over-the-year growth rate of 6.3 percent.
- Unemployment rates for Florida and the nation in January were 6.1 percent and 6.2 percent, respectively (seasonally adjusted).

FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF LABOR AND EMPLOYMENT SECURITY • BUREAU OF LABOR MARKET INFORMATION

Highlights:

- Florida's seasonally adjusted nonagricultural employment nudged upward by only 0.2 percent or 12,400 jobs over the year to reach 5,376,900 in February.
- Services (up 4.2% or 65,000 jobs) and government (up 3.6% or 29,800 jobs) were the fastest growing industries. Services' subsectors such as health services (up 6.4% or 25,700 jobs) and business services (up 5.4% or 15,800 jobs) had slowed slightly but continued their strong growth.
- Construction employment continued to plummet with an over-the-year loss of 15.6 percent or 52,500 jobs in February. This was the largest over-the-year tumble in a decline which began 29 months ago.
- Mining; and finance, insurance, and real estate (FIRE) both registered negative over-the-year growth for February with losses of 12.0 percent or 1,100 jobs and 0.9 percent or 3,300 jobs, respectively. Depository institutions, a FIRE subsector, declined by 6.1 percent or 7,300 jobs over the year. This decline was due to problems plaguing financial institutions, such as the savings and loan crisis and declines in construction loan activity.
- Manufacturing employment fell by 4.5 percent or 23,600 jobs over the year in February. This was a higher rate of loss than the 1990 average over-the-year decline of 2.9 percent.
- Trade barely recorded a positive over-the-year growth rate of 0.2 percent or 3,600 jobs in February. General merchandising, a subsector of trade, declined by 9.4 percent or 13,000 jobs.
- Unemployment rates (seasonally adjusted) for the state and nation were 7.1 and 6.5 percent, respectively.

(1) −THESE SERIES HAVE A CONSISTENT SEASONAL PATTERN AND HAVE BEEN SEASONALLY ADJUSTED. TOTALS FOR MANUFACTURING AND TRADE ARE SEASONALLY ADJUSTED, CONSEQUENTLY THE SUM OF DURABLES AND NONDURABLES WILL NOT EQUAL MANUFACTURING AND, THE SUM OF WHOLESALE AND RETAIL WILL NOT EQUAL TRADE. OTHER SERIES ARE NOT SEASONALLY ADJUSTED DUE TO A LACK OF SEASONAL PATTERN OR DUE TO A LACK OF HISTORICAL DATA CAUSED BY THE CHANGE TO THE NEW (1987) STANDARD INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICIATION.

(P) – PRELIMINARY ESTIMATE

(1) – THESE SERIES HAVE A CONSISTENT SEASONAL PATTERN AND HAVE BEEN SEASONALLY ADJUSTED. TOTALS FOR MANUFACTURING AND TRADE ARE SEASONALLY ADJUSTED, CONSEQUENTLY THE SUM OF DURABLES AND NONDURABLES WILL NOT EQUAL MANUFACTURING AND, THE SUM OF WHOLESALE AND RETAIL WILL NOT EQUAL TRADE. OTHER SERIES ARE NOT SEASONALLY ADJUSTED DUE TO A LACK OF SEASONAL PATTERN OR DUE TO A LACK OF HISTORICAL DATA CAUSED BY THE CHANGE TO THE NEW (1987) STANDARD INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICIATION.

Highlights:

- Florida's seasonally adjusted nonagricultural employment in March experienced an over-the-year decline for the first time since October 1982. The total reached 5,355,800 after this month's over-the-year loss of 25,000 jobs or 0.5 percent.
- Construction suffered another large over-the-year decline in March. The industry receded by 17.7 percent or 59,300 jobs. Construction subsectors such as general building contractors (down 23.6 percent or 20,100 jobs) and heavy construction (down 15.3 percent or 7,400 jobs) are severely affected by this downturn.
- Manufacturing declined by 4.8 percent or 25,400 jobs. This was the 22nd consecutive month with an over-the-year drop in employment. Durable goods, a manufacturing subsector, declined over-the-year by 7.3 percent or 22,700 jobs primarily due to losses in the transportation equipment component.
- Finance, insurance, and real estate (FIRE) (down 1.9 percent or 6,900 jobs) and transportation, communications, and public utilities (TCPU) (down 2.4 percent or 6,600 jobs) both have been negatively affected by the recession. Depository institutions, a FIRE subsector, slid by 6.3 percent or 7,500 jobs. Air transportation, a TCPU subsector, declined over the year by 13.7 percent or 7,000 jobs.
- Services (up 3.6 percent or 57,100 jobs) and government (up 3.0 percent or 25,200 jobs) were the only two industries to register positive over-the-year growth in March.
- Trade (down 0.6 percent or 9,200 jobs) experienced its first over-the-year decline since August 1982 when it dropped by less than one-tenth of one percent.
- Unemployment rates for Florida and the nation in March were 7.5 and 6.8 percent, respectively (rates seasonally adjusted).

(1) -THESE SERIES HAVE A CONSISTENT SEASONAL PATTERN AND HAVE BEEN SEASONALLY ADJUSTED. TOTALS FOR MANUFACTURING AND TRADE ARE SEASONALLY ADJUSTED, CONSEQUENTLY THE SUM OF DURABLES AND NONDURABLES WILL NOT EQUAL MANUFACTURING AND, THE SUM OF WHOLESALE AND RETAIL WILL NOT EQUAL TRADE. OTHER SERIES ARE NOT SEASONALLY ADJUSTED DUE TO A LACK OF SEASONAL PATTERN OR DUE TO A LACK OF HISTORICAL DATA CAUSED BY THE CHANGE TO THE NEW (1987) STANDARD INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICIATION.

FLORIDA LABOR MARKET TRENDS

Highlights:

- Florida's seasonally adjusted nonagricultural employment in April experienced an over-the-year decline for the second month in a row. The total reached 5,374,200 after this month's over-the-year loss of 11,500 jobs or 0.2 percent. The private sector as a whole declined by 0.8 percent or 35,200 jobs.
- Construction (down 17.3 percent or 57,500 jobs) and manufacturing (down 4.5 percent or 23,500 jobs) continued to suffer the largest over-the-year losses.
- Finance, insurance, and real estate (FIRE) slid over the year by 1.9 percent or 7,200 jobs in April. Depository institutions, a FIRE subsector, dropped by 5.5 percent or 6,400 jobs.
- Transportation, communications, and public utilities (TCPU) registered an over-the-year decline of 2.4 percent or 6,700 jobs in April. This was the third month in a row to experience an over-the-year decline in employment.
- Services (up 4.0 percent or 62,800 jobs) and government (up 2.8 percent or 23,700 jobs) continued to be the only two industries to record positive over-the-year growth in April. Health services (up 5.6 percent or 22,700 jobs) and business services (up 4.6 percent or 13,800 jobs), both services' subsectors, continued to grow unhindered by the current recession.
- Trade (down 0.2 percent or 2,200 jobs) experienced its second over-the-year decline this year. Wholesale trade, a subsector of trade, decreased by 1.6 percent or 4,600 jobs while retail trade grew by 0.2 percent or 2,200 jobs.
- Unemployment rates for Florida and the nation in April were 6.8 percent and 6.6 percent, respectively (seasonally adjusted).

(P) - PRELIMINARY ESTIMATE

(1) -THESE SERIES HAVE A CONSISTENT SEASONAL PATTERN AND HAVE BEEN SEASONALLY ADJUSTED. TOTALS FOR MANUFACTURING AND TRADE ARE SEASONALLY ADJUSTED, CONSEQUENTLY THE SUM OF DURABLES AND NONDURABLES WILL NOT EQUAL MANUFACTURING AND, THE SUM OF WHOLESALE AND RETAIL WILL NOT EQUAL TRADE. OTHER SERIES ARE NOT SEASONALLY ADJUSTED DUE TO A LACK OF SEASONAL PATTERN OR DUE TO A LACK OF HISTORICAL DATA CAUSED BY THE CHANGE TO THE NEW (1987) STANDARD INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICIATION.

Highlights:

- Nonagricultural employment in Florida reached 5,364,700 after this month's year-to-date loss of 46,000 jobs or 0.9 percent. Growth over the month was also negative with a decline of 0.2 percent or 10,300 jobs. May's figures showed a marked deterioration over April's, which indicates that the end of the recession may come later than previously expected.
- Construction (down 18.1 percent or 59,900 jobs) and manufacturing (down 4.9 percent or 25,700 jobs) continued to lose the largest number of jobs over the year in May. Construction suffered its 32nd consecutive month of over-the-year employment losses. This was due mainly to large surpluses of vacant commercial and residential properties.
- Transportation, communications, and public utilities posted an over-the-year employment decline of 2.6 percent or 7,200 jobs. This was the fourth consecutive month to register an over-the-year contraction.
- Finance, insurance, and real estate declined over the year by 2.3 percent or 8,600 jobs. This was the largest over-the-year drop in employment in this industry in over ten years. Depository institutions, a FIRE subsector, exhibited continued weakness in the real estate and financial services markets with an over-the-year decline of 6.6 percent or 7,700 jobs.
- Services (up 3.4 percent or 53,500 jobs) and government (up 1.8 percent or 15,200 jobs) continued to be the only two major industries to record positive growth in May. The fastest growing services subsectors in May were health services (up 5.3 percent or 21,400 jobs) and amusement and recreation (up 7.6 percent or 8,300 jobs). Local government gained most of the public sector jobs with an increase of 4.6 percent or 24,700 jobs.
- Unemployment rates for Florida and the nation in May were 7.5 and 6.9 percent, respectively (seasonally adjusted).

Highlights :

- Florida's seasonally adjusted nonagricultural employment in June recorded an over-the-year decline for the fourth consecutive month. The total reached 5,357,600 after this months year-to-June loss of 62,300 jobs or 1.1 percent. This continued employment contraction in June indicates that the recovery may come later than expected.
- Construction (down 19.7 percent or 64,800 jobs) and manufacturing (down 5.5 percent or 28,900 jobs) continued to lose the largest number of jobs over the year in June. Transportation equipment, a manufacturing subsector, declined over the year by 15.4 percent or 9,900 jobs with the largest declines in boat building and aircraft and parts.
- Trade employment (down 1.3 percent or 18,400 jobs) experienced its largest over-the-year decline in over ten years. Eating and drinking places (up 0.4 percent or 1,700 jobs) and food stores (up 1.7 percent or 3,600 jobs), both subsectors of trade, were the only components to realize positive growth over the year.
- Transportation, communications, and public utilities (TCPU) recorded an over-the-year decline of 3.6 percent or 9,900 jobs. This was the fifth consecutive month to realize an over-the-year contraction and the largest over-the-year decline in employment since August 1983. Air transportation, a TCPU subsector, declined over the year by 14.1 percent or 7,300 jobs because of competitive conditions and the shutdown of a major Florida-based airline.
- Government (up 3.1 percent or 26,300 jobs) and services (up 2.9 percent or 45,800 jobs) continued to be the only two major industry divisions to record positive over-the-year growth in June.
- Florida's unemployment rate for the month of June was 7.5 percent (seasonally adjusted) remaining stable over the month but increased over the year by 1.3 percentage points due to statewide recessionary job losses.

(P) – PRELIMINARY ESTIMATE

(1) – THESE SERIES HAVE A CONSISTENT SEASONAL PATTERN AND HAVE BEEN SEASONALLY ADJUSTED. TOTALS FOR MANUFACTURING AND TRADE ARE SEASONALLY ADJUSTED, CONSEQUENTLY THE SUM OF DURABLES AND NONDURABLES WILL NOT EQUAL MANUFACTURING AND, THE SUM OF WHOLESALE AND RETAIL WILL NOT EQUAL TRADE. OTHER SERIES ARE NOT SEASONALLY ADJUSTED DUE TO A LACK OF SEASONAL PATTERN OR DUE TO A LACK OF HISTORICAL DATA CAUSED BY THE CHANGE TO THE NEW (1987) STANDARD INDUSTRIAL CLASSIFICIATION.
